Living the principles

I am so grateful for the flexibility that UCP provides. So many of my coworkers have someone in their lives with a disability so they can relate when something comes up. There would be days where I could come in and say 'I am having a rough day' and they get it. It is so different to the point where they understand deeper than my mom does! I always feel like I am a part of the end result where we help families receive the services that they need. I always feel like I am making a difference.
