Living the principles

The most rewarding part of my job in Fiscal is when I can help people with complicated tax and payroll questions. But I stay because I love my job, I love the people here... and I plan on retiring from UCP! It feels like home away from home when I come to the office. Case in point: I was able to use my own experience adopting my son to help a coworker in similar circumstances find a resource for her family's situation. She called me back six months later to thank me for the tip... and to let me know she was able to successfully adopt her own family member.
