

“

I was first drawn to the job by the flexibility of the schedule. I didn't know what to expect since I had no experience in this line of work. But five years in, I can honestly say I enjoy my work. It's so rewarding to teach clients new things and help them have new experiences. You learn together what kinds of things they enjoy doing, and then you help make it happen. I have one client who is nonverbal, but I love to hear her giggles. They let me know we're on track with what we're doing.
