Living the principles

“ I help people. It's what I do.

I think 'character' has a lot to do with being successful in this line of work. You have to start there. And you have to be someone who naturally enjoys helping people. Finally, you have to be present. Not just show up, but really be present. I'm here. I'm committed to these guys. They have become like family to me. Ray is the same age as my own son. When you love the job, it's all good. Seeing the individuals make progress, develop trust, and grow their relationships... that's what is meaningful to me.
