

I stay at UCP because.... I feel that this job chose me. I was looking for a job when I bumped into the previous house manager and was offered a job on the spot. I can honestly say this is the most rewarding job that I have ever had. Just seeing how happy they are when I do the smallest things for them is amazing and fulfilling. I could simply buy them a new coloring book, help them dye their hair a new color, assure them that the mailman is definitely not on strike, and they light up. There are always challenges to face, but the rewards greatly outweigh the challenges.

My advice for new staff... Face the challenges, for the rewards lie just around the corner.
